Mob Sacks U.S. Consulate In Tunis Rioting

Algerians March On Assembly, Premier Demands Martial Law

PARIS (AP) — Violence spilling over from North Africa into the streets of Paris jolted French officials today to stern new measures for protecting lives and property in seething Tunisia and Algeria.

Heavily armed detachments of riot police and mobile guardsmen stood ready to prevent further demonstrations in the capital.

In Tunis, where a French mob sacked the U. S. consulate Friday and attacked offices of two French-language newspapers, police took strong restrictive measures.

In Algiers, terrorized by fresh attacks on French settlements, government sources disclosed a new division of French troops was being brought in.

Wants Martial Law

Against this backdrop, French Premier Guy Mollet faced the National Assembly with demands for emergency powers, including the right to impose martial law on Algeria. The government will cast a vote of confidence on the issue Monday.

The deputies were debating the question when some 10,000 Algerian workers emerged from the Paris Mosque Friday and began marching on the Assembly itself.

Police cordoned off the Assembly building and arrested almost 2,000 persons for questioning after the swirling mob had knifed two French truck drivers and smashed store windows.

U. S. Consulate Stormed

In Tunis, an angry mob of French residents stormed the U. S. consulate and information office and attempted to wreck the offices of two Tunisian papers.

An American Embassy source in Paris said the mob had acted on "an unfounded rumor that the United States is encouraging North African terrorists."

The Paris source added that the attack obviously "was due to ignorance of the situation."

Demonstrators burst into the

290 At Columbiana Firm's Annual Smoker

Approximately 290 persons attended the National Rubber Machinery Co.'s fourth annual smoker held at Heck's Restaurant last night, John Robinson, personnel manager of the Columbiana division of the firm and general chairman for the affair, announced.

Paul Frank, president of the firm, was unable to attend, and Allen Heston of Akron, vice president, spoke in his place. Heston talked on company business prospects and activities.

Service pins were awarded to employees of the machine shop and foundry.

Machine shop employee pins were distributed by Sam Lindsay Jr., assistant superintendent, 10-year pins; Ray Fisher, superintendent, 20-year pins; and Paul Ross, manager, 30-year pins.

Robert Gavinn foundry superintendent handed out the 10 and 20-year pins to foundry workers, and Emil Laufer, foundry manager, gave out the 30-year pins.

The National Rubber Machinery Co. this week announced its acquisition of the Leetonia Crescent plant of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co. The Crescent property includes a brick office building, a factory of about 92,000 square feet and several acres of ground.

Three other men arrested by Lisbon police and fined or forfeited bonds totaling $67. They are: Theodore Thirion of RD. 1, Lisbon, reckless operation, $35 fine; Willard Knight of Lisbon, failure to pay parking violation fine, $12 bond; James William McGinnis of Niles, speeding, $20.

SEEKS NOMINATION — Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay, pictured making a phone call in Portland, Ore., has announced that he will seek the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator to try to defeat Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

McKay To Run For U.S. Senate

Interior Secretary Will Oppose Morse

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Secretary of the Interior McKay filed for Republican nomination as senator from Oregon Friday, by taking state leaders of both major political parties by surprise.

Indications are he'll have opposition in the GOP primary in May, but there seems little doubt he'll win the chance for a showdown in November with Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse.

Democrats Cheer Move

His entry brought some odd reactions, with Democratic party leaders, almost to the man, cheering it, while some Republican leaders were unusually guarded in their comment.

McKay insisted President Eisenhower had not asked him to make the race against Morse, the one-time Republican who has become a harsh critic of the Eisenhower administration and of what Morse calls the natural resources "give-away" practices of McKay.

But McKay did say that GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams "asked me to consider" entering the race.

And the President gave personal endorsement to McKay's candidacy in a letter made public at Washington.

All this brought cheers from many Republicans, who see a chance to make up for what happened in Oregon two years ago. The state then elected a Democratic senator for the first time in 40 years. That was Richard L. Neuberger, who nosed out Republican Guy Gordon.

Morse, though registered as a Democrat since last year, was elected as a Republican in 1950. He left the party, declaring as an independent in 1952.

The Democrats greeted McKay's candidacy with more enthusiasm than needed for politeness.

Morse said in Washington that McKay's entry "will clearly draw the issues on the give-away record made by this administration in the field of natural resources."

Salem Industrial Pay Increases $76,029

Salem's industrial payroll continued on the rise during the month of February, with a total of $1,878,568.75 paid out in wages, $76,029.75 more than the $1,802,539 issued during January, the Chamber of Commerce reported today.

The total of $3,681,107.75 paid out during the first two months of this year also surpasses the January and February payroll total in 1955, when approximately $3,016,112 was issued by industries to their employees.

Chamber of Commerce officials also reveal that Salem postal receipts for February of this year total $20,047.06, or $1,923.16 more than the $18,123.90 received in February of 1955.

Construction figures released by the Chamber show that approximately $8,650 was spent on remodeling, $2,000 on store fronts, and $13,000 on residence buildings during February.

RIGID WHEAT SUPPORTS REJECTED

Protest Deportation Of Archbishop

Strike Paralyzes Island Of Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Thousands of Cypriots walked off their jobs in a paralyzing general strike today in protest against Britain's deportation of Archbishop Makarios III as a dangerous rebel.

Tough British paratroopers patrolled the streets of the Nicosia capital and other centers. They already had faced shotgun and bomb attacks in the night.

The government said the strike hit the entire island. Almost all shops and firms in the capital were closed.

In the first stirrings of violent reaction, terrorists, fired shotguns at one patrol and hurled bombs at two others. Three men were wounded.

The British refused to say immediately where Makarios was taken.

The Greek Orthodox primate on this British colony in the eastern Mediterranean was the leader of the Greek Cypriot drive for independence and eventual union with Greece.

The capital of Nicosia seemed stunned in the first hours at word that the British had whisked their spiritual leader and three of his lieutenants in a giant Royal Air Force Hastings transport. Church bells tolled. Shopkeepers rolled down their shutters.

Reaction abroad was swift. Greece recalled its ambassador to London and complained to the United Nations. Political leaders in Greece called the action "astounding . . . brutal."

In Athens, students stormed through the streets. Riot squads were rushed to guard the British Embassy.

In London, opponent of Prime Minister Eden denounced the deportation as "an act of folly . . . madness."

The British governor of Cyprus, Field Marshal Sir John Harding, said he ordered the archbishop into exile under emergency regulations "in the interest of promoting peace, order and good government."

Harding said the archbishop "now is so far committed to use of violence for political ends that he either cannot or will not abandon it."

Troops searched the homes of Makarios and his aides. "We hope to find more conclusive evidence in the archbishop's files that

Four Girls Who Faked Kidnap Story May Face U.S. Charges

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (AP) — Four Iowa high school girls whose fanciful tale of being kidnapped landed them 30-day jail sentences may get out of the Kansas trouble Sunday only to face federal prosecution for sending the FBI on a wild goose chase.

County Atty. Tom Crossan will ask City Judge Walter McVey Jr. this afternoon to place Judy Dam-man, 17; Lois Davis, 18; Janeane Fahney, 17, and Gloria Jensma, 18, on parole so they can return to school at Newton, Iowa.

May Face U.S. Charge

But U. S. District Atty. William G. Farmer said today at Wichita he is seriously considering taking action against the girls on the grounds that they gave false information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The four were sentenced to 30 days in jail here Friday after pleading guilty to charges of disturbing the peace with a fictitious story of being kidnapped by two men and driven to Kansas. They later admitted they had come here as a prank.

In sentencing the girls, Judge McVey said he would not consider parole application at that time "in view of the seriousness of the offenses."

Recalling that the teen-agers stuck to their kidnap tale through hours of questioning by an FBI agent, Farmer said, "I have presented the matter to the Department of Justice for their recommendation or opinion."

Sentence of 5 Years

Farmer cited a federal law providing for a sentence up to five years for furnishing false information to any federal agency.

The girls cheerfully greeted a newsman today reiterated they were "very sorry" over the whole episode, and remarked the matron and sheriff Floyd Huggins "have treated us wonderfully."

Their cell began to look like a

South Makes New Moves In Fight To Maintain Segregation

Negro Coed Asks Court To Order Univ. Of Alabama To Readmit Her

By The Associated Press

The only Negro ever to attend the University of Alabama wants the courts to order school officials to return her to the classes from which she was expelled.

Whether Miss Lucy actually will seek to return to the university, however, was beclouded in a television interview in New York City Friday night. Miss Lucy said in the interview that she may live in Texas after her marriage to a divinity student and that the University of Texas would be "an appropriate place" to continue her studies.

She said no date had been set for her marriage to Hugh L. Foster, but that they probably would live at Powell, Tex.

She said at an earlier press conference that she had received offers of scholarships from 10 colleges in the United States and five from abroad. Encouragement came Friday night from the University of Texas when the student assembly adopted a resolution "welcoming" Negroes to the school. The resolution welcomed "the enrollment of all eligible students . . . without regard to race, creed or color." It came soon after officials at the university announced that housing owned and operated by the school will continue on a segregated basis.

Miss Lucy was expelled from the University of Alabama on the grounds that she made unproved charges against university officials.

Her move to have her expulsion set aside by federal court order came on a day marked by numerous other developments on the South's far-flung battlefront against integration.

County Auditor I. J. Vorndran said he will prepare warrants to all subdivisions that have requested an advance in writing as required by law.

No End Seen Near To Strike

Westinghouse Still Accepts U.S. Proposal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Robert Blasler, Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s chief negotiator, says he sees "no settlement on the horizon" in the 1½-day strike by the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

Blasler said Friday that although the recent breakoff in negotiations leaves the dispute "up in the air," the door is not closed and the union could still accept the government's settlement plan.

Meanwhile, government officials put off until Monday any decision on further peace moves. A three-man panel early this week proposed settlement terms which Westinghouse accepted.

Leaders of the union said it could not agree to the plan in certain respects.

Westinghouse, Blasler said, has not withdrawn its offer to accept and "in my opinion the package offer is still on the table."

Blasler said he felt the major obstacle to an immediate settlement was the company's refusal to take back without arbitration 36 employees dismissed for alleged picket-line violence.

The IUE demands all 93 employees dismissed during the strike be rehired without condition. About 4,000 IUE members struck last Oct. 17.

At Columbus, Ohio Westinghouse has been asked to stop deducting union dues from wages of employees who have returned to work.

The request Friday came from the Independent Westinghouse Workers Assn., a group of returned workers. The IWA also asked that returned workers be given back all dues deducted for Local 748, IUE, since the strike began.

Westinghouse, which has held the dues money in escrow pending strike settlement, said it probably will answer the request Monday.

$945,227 Collected In Realty Taxes

LISBON — A total of $945,227 has been tabulated in county real estate tax collections processed by Wednesday's closing date for the first half 1955 tax year. Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer, reports.

Salem tax collections total $207,763, with an additional $23,391 received from rural Perry Twp. property owners in the Salem school district.

Judge said a heavy volume of last minute mail from taxpayers, including many checks of large amounts, are still to be added to the total.

The treasurer said that the law provides that any subdivision needing an advance may receive two thirds of the amount collected in that particular district by closing date.

County Auditor I. J. Vorndran said he will prepare warrants to all subdivisions that have requested an advance in writing as required by law.

No Soap Box Derby To Be Held This Year

The Salem Soap Box Derby will not be held this summer.

The Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the race for boys' home made cars the past four years, did not receive a franchise to continue the race this year, due to a decline in the number of boys competing.

The Jaycees have been notified by W. J. King, general manager of the All-American Soap Box Derby, that "For the past five years one of the requirements of the Soap Box Derby agreement is to have at least 50 or more qualified contestants compete in a local derby each year. On the basis of past contestant performance we regret that a Soap Box Derby franchise will not be offered for the current year."

Forty-eight boys entered the Salem race in 1952, 47 in 1953, 49 in 1954 and only 34 in 1955.

Dale T. Culbertson, a past director of the Salem derby, said it is too late to appeal the decision. He points out that the prize list, donated by merchants in Salem and surrounding towns, has grown to exceed $1,000 in value the past two years, a bigger prize list than is offered in the large derby in Cleveland.

Entries from adjoining towns swelled the contestant list in the derby each year, with only 20 Salem boys entered in 1952, 25 in 1953, 22 in 1954 and 18 in 1955. Winner of the local race represented the city in Akron at the national derby where 10 college scholarships are top prizes.

Ed Maruca, Jaycee president, said that the co-operation of other civic, fraternal and veterans organizations made possible the derbies held in the past, with about 200 men needed to present each race.

Maruca expressed the gratitude of the Jaycees to the merchants and to the other organizations for their past support of the race.

Two Persons Hurt In 2-Car Collision

Two persons, both riding in one of the two cars involved, received serious injuries in a two-car collision on the Benton Rd., three-tenths of a mile north of Salem, at 1:20 a.m. today.

In Salem City Hospital are Mrs. Edna McLaughlin, 44, of Bedford, in fair condition with a cerebral concussion and multiple abrasions of the body, and Mrs. Connie Workman, 16, of Pontiac, Mich., wife of one of the drivers, in fairly good condition with a fractured nose, fractured right hand and lacerations of the right hand. Both were passengers in a car operated by Bruce Workman, 20, of Pontiac, Mich.

According to patrolmen, Raymond G. Ferrall, 27, of Salem Heights, drove his northbound auto left of center, causing the near-head-on collision with the other car.

Both autos were demolished, patrolmen said. Ferrall was cited by patrolmen for driving while intoxicated.

CAR MIRRORS STOLEN

William Ryser of Leetonia reported to police that someone ripped two rear view mirrors, valued at $14, off his car while it was parked at the Old Reliable Drive in at 1892 E. State St. between 4:45 and 5 a.m., today.

Bible Words for Today

LUKE 23:34 "And Jesus said, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." (RSV)

These words are generally used as the words of intercession, and so they are, but can we ignore that portion of the prayer, which reveals why Christ prayed for their forgiveness?

"They know not what they do." There is a sense in which no one can know the total effect of any act, for good or evil. One of the bitterest experiences in life is to be forced to accept results which we never contemplated when we first acted. On the other hand, one of life's greatest joys is the credit we get for something we never dreamed we were doing. In the great judgment scene, there were startled people who asked the question, "When saw we thee hungry and gave thee meat?" And the answer was, "In as much as ye did it to the least of these, ye did it unto me." "Come, Ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom." Evil deeds always bring evil results, while good deeds bring good results.

Lent's Challenge For Young People

By JOHN E. RENKENBERGER

Lent is a period of time from Ash Wednesday till Easter, excluding Sundays. It is a time of fasting, which means doing without things such as certain types of recreation, certain foods, foolish talk and thoughts; a time to go back and relive the days of Christ, to remember how He felt for He knew the time had come that He was to die.

Jesus Christ died for us because He loved us. Would you not love a person who gave up His life so that you yourself might live? Even more if that person suffered greatly in His death. Many of us would say "we would never forget it," yet, forget is what the most of us have done.

John (Jack) Renkenberger, who is 20, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Renkenberger, 865 N. Howard Ave. He is active in young people's work at the First Friends Church.

Lent doesn't mean anything to a young person unless that person loves His Lord who died on the cross to save him from sin. Even though most young people realize the great love the Lord has for them, many of them refuse this love.

To the Christian young person Lent means a time of remembering, a time of sorrow, and great love; love that is not only remembered during the 40 days before our Saviour died, but love that is remembered every day of the year round.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Have Constant Energy

Authorities tell us that the heart is the toughest muscle in the body. We are told that during an average lifetime it produces enough energy to lift a battle ship fourteen feet out of the water!

But if you think and say, as one man did, "My father had a heart attack when he was forty-six, and here I am, 42 already — my turn is coming," or if you read in the newspapers about people who have suffered heart attacks and dwell on such stories — presently you are likely to begin feeling twinges yourself. Your mind will become filled with apprehensive thoughts, and soon you may find your blood pressure up and your heart action too fast. In his book, "Freedom From Fear," Dr. Lester L. Coleman, an authority on psychosomatic medicine, calls this kind of thinking one of the greatest health threats of our time.

AND, JUST AS YOU CAN think yourself into tiredness and disease, so can you think yourself into energy and health. A the urging of his father, and not without resistance, the son of a friend of mine once took a job for the summer. Each night he came dragging home complaining that he was so tired he couldn't possibly do his usual household chores. On night, the father insisted that the son wash the family car.

"All right, Dad," the boy reluctantly agreed, "but I can hardly push myself to it, I'm so tired." But a few minutes later a teenage vision of loveliness walked into the driveway, carrying a golf bag. "How about a game of golf?" she asked the supposedly overworked and weary boy.

He washed that car in nothing flat. Then he played golf till dark, missing his dinner, and went dancing until past midnight. Obviously his tiredness had not been in his muscles; it had been in his thoughts.

We consume too much power telling ourselves how tired we are. Of course there is such a thing as healthy tiredness, when you have worked or played hard all day and can fall into bed with a delicious sense of repose. That's normal tiredness from physical effort. But what really saps the energy is a deep mental fatigue — and there is a tested way to prevent it.

THE BIBLE SAYS, "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." Then it goes on to describe the new access of energy, "They shall mount up with wings as eagles," but even that isn't the climax of the dynamic passage. For it adds, "They shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint."

You might think that the text should be inverted: first walk, then run, then fly. But the Bible is wiser than that, for it tells us that the great upthrust of inspiration eventuates in the ability to keep going when the going is hard. To walk and not faint it is necessary to rise up with wings as eagles. Energy for the long hard pull comes from the uplift of mind and soul in spiritual inspiration.

Is this subject of constant energy an insignificant one? I think not. Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "The world belongs to the energetic." Think of this truth as you study men or read history, or as you evaluate yourself.

You will find that victory, achievement and ordinary usefulness come most frequently to those who have kept up their energy, often over many long years. Life with power belongs to those who wait upon the Lord, who rise up with wings as eagles, who run and are not weary, who walk and do not faint.

READING LESSON

Dr. Standish has had years of experience reading X-Rays like this one. To his trained eyes, each light and shadow means something, and this understanding has given new health and new life to countless persons.

But to most of us, this X-Ray is undecipherable. To understand its message, we would have to take a new kind of reading lesson; we would have to spend long hours at study.

Like the X-Ray, many of life's questions seem at first glance unanswerable. Indeed, some are beyond man's understanding. But in Church, we can be taught a new way of reading that makes mysteries far greater than that of this X-Ray seem suddenly miraculously clear.

If you are interested in the meaning of life for yourself and your children, then profit by the teachings of the Church that have stood the test of centuries for millions of people.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It is estimated that one out of five Ohio automobile owners do not carry automobile liability insurance.

As your Town & Village Agent, I believe I am the first to be able to offer you Uninsured Motorist Coverage, as protection against this highway hazard.

Question For Lawyers

There is no visible reason why the latest substitute for the Bricker amendment should not be cleared by Congress and submitted to the states for ratification.

There is one point in the substitute credited to Sen. Dirksen, however, which should be cleared up by lawyers before the rest of us pass judgment on it.

The original Bricker amendment, it will be recalled, would have given the Senate the supreme authority over all international agreements and would even have brought state legislatures into the process of putting them into effect. This would have been done at the expense of the present authority of the chief executive.

The Dirksen substitute says merely that "a provision of a treaty or other international agreement which conflicts with any provision of this Constitution shall not be of any force or effect."

This would appear to make the U.S. Supreme Court the supreme authority instead of Congress, and to open international agreements to challenge in any Federal Court. It could have the effect of making the treaty power meaningless if every agreement were subject to endless court injunctions, hearings, findings, reviews, affirmations and overrulings ad infinitum.

Is that how the federal judiciary might be misused in the long fight between Congress and the executive department to clip each other's wings?

Nixon-ating

Washingtonians know better than most Americans how to cast the shadow of a doubt over a man's political future. It is one of the minor arts of politics in the capital.

It is being practiced on Richard Nixon, vice president of the United States. "What about Nixon?" everybody keeps asking. That's the art to keep asking.

Pretty soon the suspicion has been planted that there really is "something" about Nixon. Many an appointive official has been ridden out of Washington on a rail of suspicion.

Fortunately, the vice president of the United States is elected, not appointed. Fortunately, President Eisenhower has a sharp eye for the political proprieties and has spiked the notion that the vice president of his administration is a puppet who can be jerked by remote control.

Nixon the President declared in his press conference this week, will make his own decision about seeking a second term. He is his own man. He was voted into office by the people of the United States. He was nominated by the delegates to a Republican party convention. He has been an eminently satisfactory vice president. If he wants to be the second man again on an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket, it is up to him to make the decision. He is a public official, not a puppet.

This won't stop the Nixon-ating that has preoccupied Washington lately, but it should let the wind out of the idea that President Eisenhower, himself, has taken up the fad.

Good Good-Neighbors

When the heads of government of the United States, Canada and Mexico sit down together this month, there will be "an uninhibited stock-taking of the state of affairs from the North Pole to the Panama Canal." This is a top Canadian diplomat's concept of the tripartite conference called by President Eisenhower.

Canadian Premier Louis St. Laurent and Mexican President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines agree with the White House suggestion that there should be no formal agenda for the talks. All three nations hope to have a frank exchange of information and opinions.

President Eisenhower is anxious to consolidate the political and military solidarity of North American neighbors and to discuss at length the over-all role of all three in the most effective use of the vast resources of this continent in combatting the Communist non-aggression economic offensive.

From Mexico, the United States and Canada may hear some plain talk on the situation in Latin America where Moscow is now casting its most beneficent "smile."

From Canada, Eisenhower will hear Ottawa's criticism of America's tariff policies and of the economic penetration of that country by U. S. capital. Canada is also concerned about the "give-away" programs of American agricultural surpluses to Europe and Asia that restrict Canadian markets.

Eisenhower is believed to be trying to draw Canada closer to the Pan-American Union from which it has held aloof in the past.

The conference will mark the first time an American president has conferred simultaneously with the leaders of the two powers that flank the United States. It is an unprecedented move to give the Good Neighbor policy a new and sharper meaning in international affairs, a move long overdue.

Religion In And On The Job

On Solid Ground

By EUGENE CARR

Much of the emphasis on juvenile delinquency today can be traced to a tendency to read and remember the bad things youngsters do, and read and forget the good.

True, on the average day, your newspaper will have a story about a teenager who is in trouble. But, likewise, day after day, we have the opportunity to read of a worthwhile project or a genuinely good deed in which a youngster or group of young people is involved.

Here are some examples taken from the news recently:

A seventeen year old girl and three boys were arrested for a series of holdups. The same paper carried a story and picture of four high school students planning a Brotherhood Week program for their school.

A fourteen year old boy confessed the murder of a neighborhood playmate. Across the page was a story of a twelve year old who received an award for saving the life of a small child.

Law enforcement officers announced they had rounded up a youthful gang accused of a series of juvenile crimes. The same evening, four boys in the same area became Eagle Scouts.

One day, two pictures appeared on a front page. One picture showed college students demonstrating over a racial problem. Next to it was a picture of a negro student and a white student taking the same test in a general information quiz.

The point here is that young people are doing worthy, useful things which are reported to us every day, but the adult reader fails to place the same importance on the good as the bad.

There is an old saying that 90 per cent of the trouble in the world is caused by 10 per cent of the people. Without doubt this is as true in the teenage group as among grownups. Far more youngsters spend their time and energy in honorable and lawful pursuits than in unlawful and trouble making activities.

Ask your clergyman how many college age are active in the youth young people of high school and groups of his church. You may be surprised at the answer. In one case, nearly 70,000 teenagers participated in the youth organizations of one denomination in one state alone last year. You can duplicate that figure in several denominations in state after state across the country.

Reports indicate the greatest demand in history for religious courses and training in our colleges and universities. In one survey, 80 per cent of the students asked said they felt the need for a firm religious faith.

These are the fathers and mothers and citizens of the future. They deserve our recognition for the fine job they are doing in building their lives on a solid foundation. They deserve to have the stories about them—who they are and what they do—not only read, but remembered.

The Vice President Field

By DAVID LAWRENCE

President Eisenhower followed the right kind of political advice when he avoided a specific commitment on who the vice-presidential nominee should be on the Republican ticket.

The exact words the President used in answering a question at his press conference have not been stressed in many of the dispatches from Washington and radio comments, but they are meaningful. Here is what he said:

"As a matter of fact, I wouldn't mention the vice president, in spite of my tremendous admiration for Mr. Nixon, for this reason: I believe it is traditional that the vice president is not nominated until after a president is, a presidential candidate is, nominated; so I think that we will have to wait to see who the Republican convention nominates, and then it will be proper to give an expression on that point."

The reporters pressed their questions, and Ike answered again: "I will say nothing more about it. I have said that my admiration and my respect for Vice President Nixon is unbounded. He has been for me a loyal and dedicated associate, and a successful one. I am very fond of him, but I am going to say no more about it."

No candidate in advance of a nominating convention has ever announced publicly the man he wanted as his running mate.

THE REASONS are based on decades of political experience. First of all, anyone who is himself aiming to win the presidential nomination doesn't venture to antagonize any faction which has a vice-presidential candidate in mind. Secondly, to pick a man for vice president before the convention votes on the top man means a fight that any sensible political leader will regard as an unnecessary battle. In politics, the trick is to avoid doing the unnecessary and the superfluous where votes in a national convention are at stake.

Few people realize that neither Sen. Sparkman of Alabama, who was chosen to be the vice-presidential nominee on the Democratic ticket with Stevenson, nor the then Sen. Nixon of California, who became the running mate of Eisenhower, were prominently mentioned for second place in advance of the conventions in 1952.

The fight now to prevent the re-nomination of Nixon as vice president could have ruinous effects inside the Republican party. For, while he wasn't a Taft man in the pre-convention fight of 1952, he is friendly to that wing of the party. Likewise, while he didn't exactly become a champion of Sen. McCarthy's cause, he did not attack him.

ANY ABANDONMENT of Nixon would be regarded, therefore, as a slap at both the Taft and McCarthy supporters and also against those Republican organizations which, in the 1954 congressional campaign benefited so much from Nixon's active campaigning in more than a dozen western states. He also has built up quite a following in the so-called "Eisenhower wing" of the party.

The President has had a better chance to observe Nixon at work than anybody else. He finds Nixon able and versatile and perhaps more familiar with the policies than anybody else on the Eisenhower team. He has been in on all the important conferences on governmental affairs, national and international. The President, to be sure, has been leaning on Nixon for political guidance.

If it isn't to be Nixon, then who? Several names are mentioned. Gov. Herter of Massachusetts is an able man. There's a controversy, however, over his eligibility, since though of American parentage, he was born abroad. Doubtless the Supreme Court would ultimately rule that he is eligible, but it would make quite a hubbub for the Democrats to play with and there would be doubt raised among the voters for a long time as to who would succeed like in case he didn't stay on in the presidency.

THE CASE REALLY couldn't be ruled on till it was actually presented to the Supreme Court. Would the voters "buy a lawsuit"? Then there's George Humphrey, secretary of the treasury. He would be acceptable to business men on every side, and this also means the regular Republican organization men. But the Democrats would have a field day on the subject of Humphrey's former connections with the steel industry. They would also point to the fact that Humphrey is 65 years old now.

The name of former Gov. Dewey has been mentioned, though he ran twice for president and was defeated. Inside the party the factional scars are still there. The original Taft men would not like it. Besides the New York State situation is full of old controversies that would be raked up.

DEWEY WOULD make a good president but it's a question whether he wouldn't be as vulnerable so far as satisfying the Democrats as is Nixon. For Dewey, too, has said some harsh things about the Democrats — and there seems to be, at least among some writers still sympathetic at heart with the Truman cause, a feeling that Republican vice-presidential nominee must be acceptable to the Democrats. Just why, nobody knows.

Big Business Issue

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Among the issues presented by former President Truman in his party's bid for votes is the old, familiar charge that the Eisenhower administration is a "big business" administration. In this, he has been followed by the three principal candidates for the Democratic nomination. Congressman Patman, the perennial patron of small business, has provided some figures to prove the case—figures circulated by the Democratic National Committee.

The basic assumption of those who argue against big business is that large units of enterprise are essentially the enemies of small businesses. The political angle is that since there are more small than big, there are votes to be gained by such an appeal.

The notion that big business is inimical to small business has been refuted so many times and in so many ways that it seems unreasonable that experienced politicians should feel that any advantage can be gained by their appeals. Nevertheless, they still use the story and in recent months have offered just enough in the way of statistics to enliven the argument.

Unless, however, the politicians are willing to charge that the Eisenhower administration has falsified the figures of the Department of Commerce—and no such charge has been made—the alleged case against big business influence is completely without foundation. In 1955 there were 11,000 business failures. In 1939, with one-third fewer businesses in operation there were 15,000. The rate of failure per 10,000 businesses was 42, whereas in the three years 1939-41, when all businesses were feeling the spur of war, the average rate was 63 per 10,000.

A further implication in the attack on big business is that it is growing at the expense of little businesses. The Department of Commerce reports that 210,000 new businesses were established in the first half of 1955. There were 180,000 established in comparable months in 1954. In 1947 there were 3,600,000 small businesses in operation. There were 4,100,000 in 1955.

Critics of the Eisenhower administration have made much of certain figures of defense contracts, perhaps for the purpose of casting a stone at the former head of a big business who is now secretary of defense.

A Senate Small Business Committee, apparently for purely partisan reasons, has estimated that small business in 1954 received 25 per cent of government contracts and that estimates for 1955 indicated that small businesses would get only 20.8 per cent.

This percentage for 1955, it will be noted, was an estimate. When all the returns were in, this estimate was proved to be wrong. The returns for 1955 show that for the five months through November 1955 small business was getting 28 per cent of all government contracts for the current fiscal year.

The basic fact is that the fortunes of big and little business are interdependent and complementary. Large business needs small business, and small business cannot get on without large business. There is no essential conflict of interest.

Stockholders' Roll Grows

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The business boom has had its parallel boom in the number of persons to buy and hold stock in leading corporations.

The roll of stockholders has grown smartly this last year on many a blue chip company's books. Today it is strikingly higher than 10 years ago — in some instances more than double — a concrete sign of the revival of public interest in the stock market since the war.

Ford has just added to this by boosting the number of its stockholders from a handful within the ranks of the family and top executives to more than 350,000 by selling stock to the public.

The total of persons owning common stock in this country's corporations is now estimated as at least 8 million, a gain of 1 1/2 million since the Brookings Institution made a survey in 1952 for the New York Stock Exchange.

The bull market in stocks, feeding on the business boom and its accompanying harvest of confidence, has had much to do with this. So has the record number of stock splits — some 180 last year alone — plus many declarations of stock dividends.

On top of this, the nation's corporations sold 2 1/2 billion dollars of new common stock last year to the public, the Securities and Exchange Commission reports. (The Ford stock sale, coming in 1956, isn't included.)

The New York Stock Exchange publishes today in the March issue of the exchange a table of 18 companies with some of the nation's largest stockholder lists. Their average gain in numbers last year was 7 per cent and in 10 years 44 per cent.

Ford isn't included since its stock wasn't publicly available until recently. And one or two other companies with large stock owner rolls aren't there because their latest lists aren't available.

The 18, combined, now have 4,541,221 share owners, compared with 3,161,861 in 1946, the first post-war year when industry was readjusting from a war to a peace economy. The totals include duplications, of course, since many stockholders own shares in more than one of the 18.

American Telephone & Telegraph is the most widely owned corporation, both now and then. It reports 1,409,000 shareholders, a gain of 106 per cent in 10 years. General Motors is second with 537,751 now, a 33.2 per cent increase since the war.

Biggest gainer percentage-wise in 10 years in the number of shareholders is International Harvester with a jump of 230.6 per cent, although it now counts the smallest number of any of the list—99,390.

Others that have doubled their shareholder totals or better are Jersey Standard Oil and Westinghouse Electric.

per cent increase in the decade. But it was top company for percentage-wise gains in the last year. With 349,000 stockholders now, it has added 53,053, or 1.9 per cent, in the last year.

Others showing better than a 40 per cent gain in the last 10 years are Du Pont, Union Carbide and U. S. Steel. Runners up include California Standard Oil, and Socony Mobil Oil.

Reaffirm Bingo Opposition

To The News: In January of this year, the Salem and Vicinity Ministerial Association was approached about their attitude on the issue of bingo games in Salem.

At a meeting Monday Feb. 6, a resolution was passed by unanimous consent that as a Ministerial Association "we are unalterably opposed to bingo games in Salem."

Opposition to bingo is based upon the consensus of both church and state officials that bingo is gambling and thus should not be permitted. The laws of any state are now very clear on this form of gambling.

There is a loophole, however, which makes some concession if the bingo games are for charitable purposes. However, it is the opinion of the Salem Ministerial Association that no matter how worthy the cause, that gambling is not justified.

The Salem Ministerial Association is opposed to bingo because even though classified as an "innocuous form of gambling," it may cultivate this spirit of getting something for nothing and lead and develop this spirit so that inveterate gamblers may be the result of this embryo gambling.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

First Super Flight

It was their first airplane trip. Mr. and Mrs. Frisby Willetts hadn't been able to sleep a wink the night before. Mrs. Willetts had been disturbed by a dream she was in a roller coaster when the car flew off the rails, and took it as an omen. "But we not going to Florida by roller coaster," her husband said, "so why worry?"

They got a morning paper before starting for the airport and were unnerved by two headlines about air disasters. As they walked through the hotel lobby a bellboy was paging a "Mister FALL." The Willetts looked at each other, flashing concurrence in the conviction the Wright Brothers should have stuck to their bicycle shop.

AT THE FIELD they saw the huge plane. That it could fly seemed fanciful. A mechanic kept hooking a ladder to the motors and looking bately inside. Another one was giving the tires an inspection. It made them extra apprehensive. A gas truck was pouring gas into the plane and at a point which Mrs. Willetts was sure was under her seat.

A loudspeaker paged George B. Puddicombe who was wanted at the office at once. Willetts wished he were Puddicombe. The wife wished she were the man at the other end of paging him.

They climbed aboard the big airliner. The notice "Live-Vest Under Chair" on the back of the seat ahead did them no good. There was something in Spanish on the window sill. "Way Spanish!" Mrs. Willetts exclaimed. "Could we be on a plane to Spain instead of Miami?" "It's just a message asking us not to open any windows," comforted Mr. Willetts, "and I thing it's in Greek."

"FASTEN YOUR BELTS!" . . . The Willetts knew this was routine with a talkoff. But it startled them. Mr. Willetts fancied one motor was skipping. The wife was sure two were not working smoothly. . . . Now the plane was high in the air going as gracefully as a great bird, but the wife's eyes lit on the top of a magazine headline "Look Before You Leap" and she gurgled queerly and took a pill. Now came the announcement that the plane would fly 15,000 feet in the skies and a few hundred miles OVER THE OCEAN, and to notice instructions about life preservers! !

The Willetts wished they had decided to go by pogo stick. A woman across the aisle went calmly to sleep. A man ordered a Manhattan and joked with the hostess. Another man passenger boasted, "This is my fifty-sixth trip. Be there in four hours. Make mine a rye on the rocks." . . . Mr. and Mrs. Willetts hated them all.

"WOULD YOU LIKE LUNCH NOW?" . . . Mr. Willetts recoiled, picturing himself plunging through space with a tray of halibut. The wife thought of herself on a rubber raft with a shrimp cocktail, and a big shark close by. But they decided to eat. Their idea was that a few Parker House rolls would float a human longer. They kept looking at their watches. In three-and-a-half hours they were in Florida. But they still didn't believe it. "Pretty wonderful, wasn't it?" asked Willetts, "Who?" was all Mrs. Willetts could say.

TWO AUTOMOBILE COMPANIES are offering free insurance for a year with every car. . . . With a policy in a choice of colors?

New York State Assembly has once again, following an old custom, killed the bill to stop the wiping out of striped bass by commercial fishermen and limit catches of this fine game fish to rod and reel sportsmen. The Standing Committee on Conservation declared, "Our hearings proved that exhaustive surveys showed commercial fishing with nets and dragnets, had not EVEN DENTED THE BASS POPULATION." . . . With a straight face, too, and despite the inescapable fact that the striped bass has become scarcer and scarcer with every passing year, may once famous haunts now being almost without a sign of them.

HONOLULU (AP)—A shipment of some 200 hungry "cannibals" arrived Friday — six less than left Lesburg, Fla., Wednesday.

The cannibals, carnivorous euglandina rosea snails were imported to gobble up giant African snails which have been plaguing local farmers.

"They just got a little hungry on the plane," a territorial official said.

What happens after they eat all the African snails?

"The ideal situation," the official said, "is for them to then eat each other. The last one would die of starvation."

At least, that's the theory.

Material Power May Rule Human Destiny, Speaker Warns

Dr. William W. Tomlinson, vice president of Temple University, told the Salem High School student assembly Friday morning that, "The haunting anxiety that clouds a future, brilliant beyond dreams, is that men may let physical and material power be the master, rather than the servant, of human destiny."

"Among millions of Europeans this fear is magnified three-fold," he said. "First, by the fear of a conspiring Russia whose rulers have combined vast physical power with complete moral irresponsibility. Second, by the fear of a resurgent Germany, laboring to shake off its historic curse — an excessive concern with an all-powerful state. Third, by the fear that the United States may permit preoccupation with material, scientific and military progress to obscure its intended destiny as the world's leading democratic nation."

"Many thoughtful Germans, ambitious that their new Federal Republic may be impelled by motives of peace and international

Credit Firm Sues TV Over 'Justice' Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Buckeye Credit Advisors, Inc., of Columbus has filed a million-dollar libel suit against the National Broadcasting Co. and the American Tobacco Co., sponsor of the television program "Justice."

The credit firm said a March 4 telecast of the program over a local station tended "to damage, injure and destroy the plaintiff's reputation and business." It said in a court petition filed Friday that the subject of the play "was an unscrupulous individual operating a debt pool who engaged in blackmail, fraud and practiced law without a license."

The petition said an actor on the program urged the audience "not to use the services of business of this kind. These businesses serve no legitimate purpose."

His Own Career

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It is never pleasant for either party when a boy defies his father in picking out his life's career.

It was particularly difficult for Alfred R. Globus, who at 35 has become one of the youngest tycoons in American chemistry.

He deeply admired his father, who had come to his country alone at 16 and had sweated night and day to put himself through medical school. But young Globus himself was more interested in putting with chemicals than learning medicine.

When his home chemistry set once blew some plaster off the

THE DALTON MUSEUMS

The Daltons hid out here during a series of holdups and train robberies in 1886-1892.

Gang used this tunnel under house. It led to horse barn.

IN Coffeyville, Kan., they still talk about an alley that bears the nickname of "Death Alley." Because of a small mistake, it was the "dead-end" for the infamous Dalton gang. The Daltons and their cohorts warned the town of Coffeyville that they would rob both banks on Oct. 5, 1892. In spite of the town's armed alertness, the gang did hold up both banks, but they made one deadly mistake. They didn't know the alley beside the bank was a dead end. They were mowed down by angry citizens. Bob and Grat Dalton, along with Bill Power, are buried in Coffeyville. The town, naturally, is a museum to one of the best-known of the west's gangs. Another "memorial" to the Daltons can be found in Meade, Kan., where tourists can visit one of their hideouts and walk through an old getaway tunnel. These three photos show the hideout in Meade. That tunnel saved them many times from pursuing posses.

An early-day covered wagon stands in the yard of the gang's house, now a museum.

Santee Gets 2nd Favorable Court Ruling, To Race Tonight

Only 1 Miler May Oppose Him

Santee Says He'll 'Run Like Mad'

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Miler Wes Santee, buoyed by another favorable court ruling in his battle against lifetime suspension by the Amateur Athletic Union, plans "to run like mad" in the feature mile of the Milwaukee Journal games tonight.

In New York Friday Justice Irving L. Levey of the New York Supreme Court continued an injunction that Santee obtained a week ago in time to enter the Knights of Columbus games.

"It's good to know I can run again," Santee said after arriving in Milwaukee last night. He said he did not know the details of the latest ruling and had only received word from his attorneys by telephone to "go ahead and run in Milwaukee" before catching the plane that brought him here. Santee, now a lieutenant in the Marine Corps, was given the go-ahead at his base at Quantico, Va.

"I'd like to make the race interesting," Santee said, adding he would be "very happy if he could run faster than last year." He won the 1955 event in 4:08.6.

As last week, the former Kansas star, will run in a Santee-section of the race that will be divided into two divisions.

Meet director Oliver Kuehler said a second section will be run for six other milers who "indicated they prefer not to run against Santee and possibly jeopardize their Olympic eligibility."

Santee will run, in his section, against a token field. There was only one other definite starter, Bill Taylor, one of Santee's Marine buddies.

Set to go in the other section were Billy Tidwell of Emporia (Kan.) State College; Phil Coleman of the Chicago Track Club; Joe Deady of Washington, D. C.; Mike Stanley of Lockbourne, Ohio; AFB; Deacon Jones, Iowa, and John Walter of Michigan State.

In upholding the injunction Friday, Justice Levey set next Thursday for trial.

On Feb. 19, the AAU suspended Santee for life on charges of taking excessive expense money in meets last year.

Winger, Bigham Lead At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Youth was in the forefront today in the third round of the $12,500 Pensacola Open Golf tournament.

Two comparative youngsters on the pro circuit, Bo Winger of Oklahoma City, Okla., and George Bigham of Kansas City, Mo., held the lead with five under par 139s.

Both are 28. Winger put together rounds of 72-67 and Bigham 70-69 for the 36-hole lead.

Another youngster, Joe Black of Abilene, Tex., followed with 71-69-140.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio was one of eight bracketed at 141, one stroke behind Black.

Chuck Wegerek Looks Good In Practice Game

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Chuck Wegerek, a promising young shortstop, stole the show Friday in a Kansas City Athletics intrasquad game in which pitcher Bobby Shantz had top billing.

Shantz, the little left-hander who has been plagued by an ailing arm, was being watched for signs that he may be returning to the form that made him a 24-game winner for the A's in 1952.

The consensus was that Bobby made a creditable start. He seemed to have fairly good control of his curve, and he obviously wasn't putting too much on the ball.

But Wegerek clouted one of his pitches 385 feet over the center field fence. He also collected a single and a double in four trips to the plate.

Lee Calhoun Ties High Hurdles Record

BALTIMORE (AP)—Lee Calhoun, North Carolina College junior, tied the world's record for the 60-yard high hurdles and set one of four new meet marks entered in the books at the South Atlantic AAU indoor track meet Friday night.

The 23-year-old Gary, Ind., hurdler cleared the five barriers in 7.1 seconds, bettering by three-tenths of a second the old meet mark which he set here in 1953 and equalling Harrison Dillard's world record established in New York on March 20, 1948.

BRAVES FACE PHILLIES

MELBOURNE (AP)—John Landy, world's championship 3:58 miler, won the Australian Mile Championship today in 4:04.2 after he pulled up and stepped off the track to see if his teammate, Ron Clarke who had tripped and fell after 1,180 yards, was hurt.

Top Salem High Cage Player To Be Named

Eleven judges have been selected to determine Salem High School's most valuable basketball player of the 1955-56 season, according to Dale Culberson, awards chairman.

This year's contest, sponsored by the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be conducted through a ballot voting system that will consider points in three individual categories of cage play. The new system, according to Culberson, was adopted because of the closeness of the race between the three senior members of the team.

Jack Alexander, Rich Hunter and Matt Klein.

The three categories are leadership (floor generalship, playmaking), aggressiveness (rebounding, ballhawk), and skill (ball handling, best shot). A first choice worth two points and a second choice worth one will be selected by judges in each of the three categories. Each judge will then add up the total points of players and the total points of all judges will determine the trophy winner.

Winner of the award will be presented the Jaycee trophy at the Booster Club's annual basketball banquet scheduled for April 7.

Judges for the contest are Coach John Cabas and Karl Zellers; Athletic Director Fred Cope; Robert Heddleston, school board member; Jaycees Morris Hollinger, Walt Taylor, Don DeJone and Dale Culberson; Rev. Harold Deitch, pastor of the First Christian Church; and Carl Nandray, sports editor of the Salem News.

3 Rookies To Hurl Opener For Chicago

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Stan Hack has nominated three rookies to do the pitching for the Chicago Cubs today in the opener of the spring exhibition schedule against Baltimore.

Hack nominated Johnny Briggs, Dick Drott and Bob Anderson.

Hack also announced that Walt Moryn, Solly Drake and Hank Sauer will be in the outfield.

Moryn came to the Cubs from the Brooklyn Dodgers and Drake finished last season at Los Angeles after nursing a broken leg suffered last spring.

Sauer had his worst year in the majors last season but has been belting the ball with authority this season.

Ashburn Sure He Can Retain Batting Title

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Richie Ashburn opined yesterday he can repeat as National League batting champion and the Philadelphia Phillies outfielder figures he'll do it with power smashes and well-placed singles.

He'll seldom bunt and, therefore, will rely less on speed foot. "Not that I'm slowing down," the 28-year-old towhead interjected. "I haven't slowed down any in the past five years."

His strategy is to continue the type hitting that proved successful last season. "When you've had success one way, you don't experiment," he said.

Ludwig Lightburn Whips Khalfi

Wants To Take On Lightweight Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—Can brilliant Ludwig Lightburn still make 135 pounds and be strong?

If the 21-year-old British Honduran sharpshooter can still trim down to the lightweight limit then champion Wallace (Bud) Smith has something to sweat about. If not, then the welterweight class has another topnotch contender for Carmen Basilio's crown.

Fast-punching Ludwig didn't appear to have a spare ounce on his rangy, 5-8 frame last night when he weighed 140½ and raised humps on the face of out-gunned Hoacine Khalfi in Madison Square Garden.

Lightburn won from here to Khalfi's native Algeria for his seventh straight victory and his second consecutive rout of Hoacine.

"Ludde can make the lightweight limit yet," said Allie Clark, Lightburn's manager. "We want Smith for the title. We're not interested in welterweights."

Several experienced trainers and managers disagreed with Clark.

"He'll have to take a leg off to make 135," said one.

Khalfi weighed 135½. His blows appeared feeble compared to Ludde's sharp, damaging punches.

The transplanted Algerian, now living in New York, had a couple of excuses—named Myriam and Laila. They are the twin girls born to his wife, Clare, Thursday night.

"I had expected one, naturally," said battered Hoacine. "But two—that is unexpected. My nerves still are shattered. I am happy, of course. But when I finished training Thursday I weighed 138. That three pounds I worried away took the pep from me."

Salem Trackmen To Compete In Meet

Six members of the Salem High School track team will participate in an indoor meet at Pittsburgh today.

Coach Karl Zellers took captain Gary Painchaud, who will enter in the distance races, Jack Alexander, the high jumper, who he won last year, and John Buta will vie in the shot put.

Herb Haschen, Bill Holzworth, and Dick Coppock also went to the meet and will likely enter the dashes and one or two relays.

The meet is an annual pre-season affair in which outstanding members of the previous years' team participate.

The local trackclads have not started regular practice, but full scale workouts will begin Monday.

Gordons' Sport Edge Reserves In B Playoffs

Gordon Sports gained a berth in the opening period and Gordons pulled away in the second stanza 23-20.

The Reserves outscored their opponents 10-4 in the third period and going into the final period of play the Jayvees led 30-27.

In the final period however Gordons' stalling tactics paid off as they out-manuevered the Reserves 11-4 to win the game 38-34.

Bob Borton led the way for the win as he tallied 20 of his teams 38 points. Dan Weber and Lou Slaby shared scoring honors with 10 markers each.

Gordon Sports will now meet Bunnys Shoe Service in the semi-final game of the double elimination tourney. Gordons and Bunnys have each lost one game and the loser will be automatically dropped and the winner will tangle with Leetonia American Legion on Wednesday for the League Championship.

Leetonia is undefeated in tournament play thus far and if they would lose Wednesday, then one more game would be required to determine a champion.

If that should happen then the second game would be played Thursday.

In Class A, where 31 of the 328 teams are still firing, eight of the top 10 in the final poll are still on hand. Here, too, one of the elite must fall as Canton McKinley (No. 4) with a 17-3 mark, meets Akron South (No. 6) with a perfect 18-0 count, in the district finals at Kent.

Middletown, five-time state Class A champion, and rated No. 1 in the final poll, goes against Dayton Roosevelt at Dayton, and must sweep the 1934 state champs aside to get to the Cincinnati regional.

Many Tribe Rookies Face Giants Today

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians will open their exhibition series with the New York Giants here today with a lineup composed mostly of rookies.

A sore right shoulder will keep third baseman Al Rosen on the sidelines. Following an examination by a physician Friday, the 32-year-old veteran was advised not to throw a ball or swing a bat for four or five days.

Rookie Stan Pawloski will replace Rosen at third. Other rookies in the lineup will include Larry Raines at second base, Joe Altobelli at first, Rocky Colavito in right field and Earl Averill behind the plate.

George Strickland will be at shortstop, Jim Busby in center field and Gene Woodling in left field.

Manager Al Lopez says he will start Herb Score, the Indians' out artist, on the mound followed by rookie Cal McLish and Dolan Nichols.

Mount Union Cagers Set 14-5 Record, Best Since 1941-42

ALLIANCE — Mount Union College ripped through the last nine games of the 1955-56 basketball season, winning them all to finish the campaign with a mark of 14 wins and five losses for the best mark by a Mount team since the 1941-42 quintet breezed to a 17 and 1 mark.

Eight Ohio Conference games were included in the victory streak and enabled the Raiders to finish with a loop mark of nine and four to place third in the conference standings, repeating last year's performance.

Falling by the boards according to Mount statistics were four school individual records. Don "Goose" Talbert, 6-4 sophomore sensation and strong All-Ohio candidate, reset three marks and senior co-captain Jim Walton captured the other.

Talbert ended the season with a total of 467 points, well above the previous season's high of 404 points. He also broke the old single game mark of 37 points three times. He hooped 38 against Akron, netted 40 against Capital, and collected 41 in the Keaton contest. Both scoring marks were formerly held by All-Ohio Lee Thomas, cage coach at Leetonia.

Picking off 277 rebounds, Talbert broke the season's rebounding mark he set last year as a freshman when he pulled down 222 rebounds. Walter posted a new high in field goal percentage as he made 71 of 141 action shots for 49.3 per cent edging out Talbert, who had 163 of 332 shots for 49.1 per cent.

Following Talbert in the scoring column was Bruce Humphrey, who had 236 points for an average of 12.4 markers a game. Walton had 195 points, an average of 10.8 points a game. Rounding out the list of starters, freshman Charles Kemp garnered 177 markers while senior co-captain Dick Cannon meshed 129 points.

Harry Baird, Salem High School great last year who broke into the Mount cage fold at mid-season and played in only eight games, scored a total of 45 points for an average of 5.6 per contest. Jack Gottschling another former Quaker cager dumped in 57 points in 18 games for a 3.2 average.

Mount hit on 43 per cent of its action shots and averaged 75.2 points a game while limiting opponents to 64.1 points a game, giving them a rank in the nation's small college statistics. Despite a lack of extreme height, the Raiders also out-rebounded the opponents by a margin of 891-693.

Cernik, a tall, lean athlete with a splash of gray at his temples, said he felt sure the Communists would find it much more difficult to move in and take charge in tennis than they have in other sports.

"It won't be like ice hockey or speed skating," he added. "Tennis is an individual sport. It's more than technique, good conditioning and organization. It's tradition and there's a lot of heart in it."

Cernik was in Colombia, South America, four years waiting for his U. S. visa. Now he must wait another five years for his citizenship.

Williams is expected to be in the Boston Red Sox starting lineup against Brooklyn Saturday night in Miami after blasting a pair of warmup home runs.

The slugging left fielder teed off on ace righthander Frank Sullivan Friday after a writer offered him a $25 to $10 bet he couldn't park the ball in seven swings.

Williams fouled two off, hit one on the ground, then rifled two drives over the right field barrier and hit the wall with a third.

"He'll play a few innings, maybe he'll go five," manager Mike Higgins said afterward.

Trabert broke losing streak against Gonzales

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Tony Trabert broke a 10-match losing string by defeating Pancho Gonzales 6-4, 10-12, 6-4 here Friday night in one of a series of their pro tour.

a fractional rise, if any, anticipated before it recedes. Fringes of residential Wheeling Island, in the middle of the river, and other low-lying areas were inundated, but damage was slight.

The river went three feet above the 32-foot flood stage at East Liverpool Friday, but did little damage.

Several roads were reported closed due to high water. These included Ohio 7 between Wellsville and Steubenville, U. S. 32 west of Portsmouth and Ohio 522 one mile east of the Scioto-Lawrence county line.

More than 160 pupils were vacationing from schools at Sciotoville, near Portsmouth, because a bridge over the Little Scioto River at the town's east edge was under water. At Portsmouth lowlands and farmlands were flooded. The river crest at Portsmouth of 50.5 to 51 feet is due at 7 a. m. Monday.

The latest river crest predictions from the Weather Bureau at Huntington (flood stages bracketed) included:

Parkersburg, W. Va., 36.5-37 feet at 8 p.m. today (36 feet).

At Birmingham, a White Citizens Council rally cheered the suggestion that Gov. James E. Folsom be impeached for "failure" to uphold segregation.

Asa E. Carter, executive secretary of the North Alabama Citizens Council, spoke to about 2,000 persons in the Municipal Auditorium.

At one point Carter shouted: "We need a government (in Alabama) that says to the Supreme Court, 'these are our public schools and the first Negro that sets foot in a white school will be arrested and put in jail!'"

Another speaker at the rally was John C. Crommelin, retired rear admiral and now a candidate for the U.S. Senate seat occupied by Lister Hill.

Crommelin promised to have a full investigation of the U.S. Supreme Court for its ban on public school segregation and said also that "I'm going to make Lister Hill join the white citizens councils or tell us why he doesn't."

Both Crommelin and Carter referred to the Supreme Court as leftist.

In Mississippi, another bulwark against integration, moves were suggested that would cripple the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The potential weapons are three bills awaiting action by the State Legislature which has been quick to approve other pro-segregation measures almost unanimously. The bills would:

1. Establish a subversive activities control commission composed of the governor, attorney general and secretary of state to declare persons and organizations subversive.
2. Declare subversive those persons and organizations seeking to change Mississippi's laws by "force, violence, intimidation or oppression."
3. Require the NAACP to publish its membership and contribution lists or pay state income taxes.

Under the bills, subversives would be forbidden to run for or hold public office or hold a state, county, municipal or district job. Among those who would be hit are Negro teachers, Gov. J. P. Coleman recently signed into law a bill requiring prospective teachers to list all organizations to which they belonged during the past five years as a prerequisite of employment.

Under a bill now before a Mississippi legislative committee white citizens councils would be eligible for public funds to carry out their pro-segregation policies.

Six Die In Headon Two-Car Collision

COOPERSVILLE, Mich. (AP)—Six persons—four from one family—were killed Friday night in a head-on two-car crash near this western Michigan community. A seventh was injured critically.

Others killed were: Maitner's wife, Alberta, 33; their daughters, Sharon Lynn, 10, and Donald 2, and Theodore J. Vogt 37, a Grand Rapids passenger in Maitner's car.

Critically hurt was the Maitners' son, Gary Lee, 7.

Cyprus

Makarios is the real leader of the terrorists," a British official said.

New outbreaks seemed certain to sweep Cyprus for months as a result of bombing, sniping and sabotage. Scores have died and hundreds have been wounded. Britain has 50,000 troops stationed on the island, its last bastion in the Middle East.

Seized Boarding Plane
Markarios was seized as he prepared to board a plane for Athens, where he was to confer with the Greek government. The British also seized Bishop Kyriakides of Kyrenia, the Rev. Papastravos Pappasanthangelou of Nicosia and Polykarpos Ioannides, secretary of the Kyrenia bishopric.

The governor's office named a press and radio censor and banned publication on Cyprus of any news "likely to cause alarm or dependency, or be prejudicial to public safety or maintenance of public order."

Greece's recall of its ambassador to London followed an emergency meeting of Premier Constantine Karamanlis' Cabinet. Foreign Minister Spyros Theotokis said Greece also had instructed its U.N. delegation to protest to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Negotiations Collapse
Five months of secret British negotiations with Makarios over the future of Cyprus collapsed only last Monday. Britain said it had offered self-government within the commonwealth, with defense and internal security remaining in British hands. It said Makarios had held out for amnesty for all political offenders including convicted murderers of British soldiers, absolute Cypriot control of internal security and a written guarantee that the Greek-speaking majority would control the Legislature.

Makarios was leader of the 400,000 Greek-speaking Cypriots. There is a minority of about 100,000 of Turkish descent which opposes his aims.

of Republican senators from western wheat states caused the changed lineup from Thursday's 54-41 vote on other crops.

Much of the time yesterday was spent hammering out a compromise to let corn belt farmers and producers of competitive livestock feed grains participate in the soil bank program.

As finally accepted, it would fix the minimum corn allotment this year at 51 million acres. Farmers in the commercial corn belt could share in soil bank payments and price supports by staying within their share of this allotment and agreeing to put land equal to 15 per cent of their allotment—but not necessarily corn land—in the soil bank program.

The soil bank plan—a part of the bill—would provide payments to farmers who agree to cut production of crops already in surplus.

Included in the compromise was a proposal to let oats, barley, rye and grain sorghum producers also participate in the soil bank and price supports.

Unlike corn, the feed grain farmers would have to divert land formerly planted to their crop.
